
Message From Rabbi Judy Cohen-Rosenberg

The Ten Commandments of the Internet by Rabbi Pauline Bebe, Communauté Juive Libérale in Paris, France

(I'm grateful to Rabbi Bebe for so eloquently stating these "commandments". Please follow them in any electronic correspondence you have but especially when dealing with Temple business and members.-Rabbi Judy)

1. You shall always reread a message before sending it. Hillel said: "Do not express in unintelligible words with the hope of being understood later" (Pirkei Avoth 2: 4). This might be, by the way, the real meaning of peroshim / pharisees [rabbinical interpretations] that we are the spiritual heirs of, i.e., "not the ones who are separated but the ones who are explicit!"
2. You shall wait before responding to a message that upsets you; never answer immediately. Ben Zoma says "hakovesh eth yitsro": who is the true hero, the one who conquers one's passion (Pirkei Avoth 4:2).
3. Never talk about a third person in an email except for tachles matters (Lashon Shelishith TB, Ar. 15b)
4. Do not judge someone without first being in his or her place (Pirkei Avoth 2:5, in the name of Hillel)
5. Do not transfer an email without the author's permission. (When someone says something to one's friend, the latter may not repeat it unless the first gave permission [TB Yoma 4b]).
6. Do not circulate information without having first checked its veracity (the seal of the Eternel is truth, emeth). (TB, shb.55a; Yom.69b ; Sanh.64a)
7. Do not disclose private information (Megaleh Sod TB, Sanh. 31a)
8. Do not openly show images or information that should be kept private about yourself. Bilam is said to have admired the tents of Israel because their windows were not facing each other, thus guarding each other's privacy.
9. Do not defame (lashon hara) (TB, BM 58b)
10. Do not be a talebearer (rekhilout) (Lev. 19:16). Rabbi Nehemiah taught: "do not be like the peddler who transports the words of one to the other and the words of the other to the one" (T.J. Pe 1:1, 16a).

Presidents Message.....

The Journal Dinner Dance on 10 April was fantastic. If you were there you know what a great night it was. If you were not able to make it, you missed a very special evening.

Congratulations again to our honorees the Kliener's and the Pasternak's, to the Journal Committee and to everyone who solicited and or placed ads. It's a group effort and it showed!

The annual goods and services Auction is next on the Fundraising agenda. Be sure to mark 15 May on your calendar for an evening of fun, surprises and bidding. We will also be dedicating our kitchen to Ruth Simonson that night. Ruth ran the kitchen for many events, especially during numerous auctions. It is a fitting way for us to remember her contributions to CRT. It is fair to say that when Ruth ran the kitchen, she ran it with military precision. I believe that would be called an "understatement".

The annual UJA Federation Brunch was held on April 25 at Suburban Park JC/Congregation Lev Torah. Our honorees were Lillian and Norm Karp. If you were there you know they did us proud.

The Budget and Nominating committees are almost done with their work for the next fiscal year. The budget and the slate of officers and board members will be put forth for a vote during the June Congregation meeting which will be on 9 June at 7:30 PM. I urge to you attend this meeting. This is our temple and I'd like to think everyone is interested in how we spend our money and who is going to be on the board. We all contribute the best way we can and it is unfair to think everyone can give the same amount of time. Let's face it people work, have families and other obligations outside of CRT. But if you can, please attend this meeting and be part of the process. Buy gift cards and oh yes, buy more gift cards.

The book for the month is Rashi's Daughters Book III: Rachel by Maggie Anton. This is the last book in her series about the scholar Rashi and his family as he wrote his commentaries. Book I was great, Book II a bit of a letdown, but Anton delivers the goods again in Book III. Here we see medieval France during the first Crusade as thousands of Jews are killed by the Crusader army on the way to liberate Jerusalem. If this were not true it would be ironic, perhaps it still is. It's historical fiction that really paints a good picture of what it was like to be a Jew in the late 1090's. This book also contains a great explanation of how the lunar Jewish calendar is figured out and how it compares to the secular solar calendar.

Finally there are a number of special Shabbat services coming up between now and the end of June. Be sure to check the weekly activity email for details. I hope to see you there.

MEN'S CLUB NEWS.....

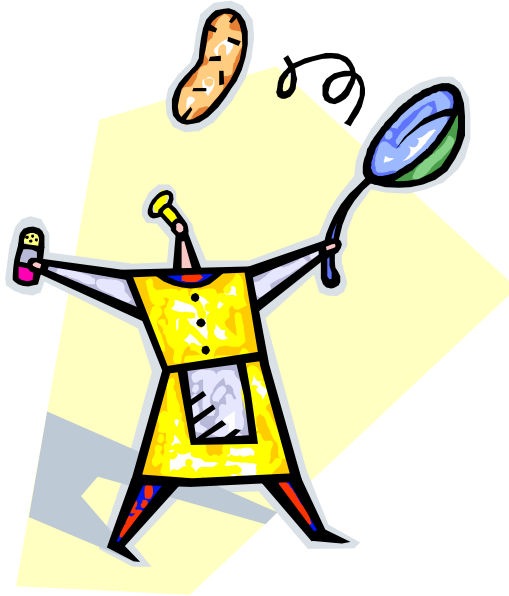

Paul and I were very proud of the Men's Club Friday night service on April 16th. More than half the membership participated, whether by Torah readings, Torah translations, "Aliyot," English readings, chanting, or talks on the various meanings of Israel. I want to thank all of these participants and everyone else who attended and, hopefully, enjoyed the service.

The next Men's Club event is the annual Mother's Day Breakfast on 5/9. As usual, the guys will be serving sumptuous offerings of pancakes, omelets, etc. Please bring the whole "mishpucha!"

Harvey Eisenberg gave us all a scare last week, but appears to be doing okay as of the time of this writing. Please stay on your feet Harvey!

The softball team could still use a few more players. We know there are some younger CRT members out there who might be able to help us. Why not give us a try? If you're interested, please give Gary Lotenberg, our fearless leader, a holler.

Regards,
Ed Temple

Journal Dinner

As you all know, our annual Journal is one of our most important fund raisers. What SOME of you know is how much of a fun raiser it is. On April 10th, nearly 100 CRT members and their guests celebrated in grand style in our social hall. Catered by Fran Zaslow Caterers (one of our best Catering Panel members), the food was excellent and plentiful. Our DJ, Neil, was entertaining, as always. Jay The Photographer graciously offered his services to memorialize the event, and I understand the pictures are beautiful!

Starting with hors d'oeuvres in the atrium, attendees had a chance to mingle, nosh on wild mushrooms, smoked salmon (otherwise known as lox), corned beef, meatballs, cocktail franks spring rolls, and other yummys. We then proceeded into the social hall for a sit-down dinner, which offered a choice of stuffed capon, salmon, or chateaubriand—with all the trimmings! A sumptuous Viennese table capped the culinary portion of the evening: carrot cake, cheese cake, waffles and ice cream, fresh fruit, cookies, and lots more.

Our honorees were Art and Diane Kleiner, Andy and Rabbi Deanna Pasternak. Surrounded by family and friends, they graciously and articulately accepted their honors and the plaques that Mark Natelson presented to them. Then we raffled off four terrific prizes: DVDs to three recently nominated films, two jewelry items, and a basket of cheer (2 bottles of wine and a wine opening set donated by Morton's Restaurant). Thanks to The Hudes family of Gennaro Jewelers, Mark and Sheila Rosenberg, and the Middlemans for the other raffle prizes. Our Journal met its objective of raising nearly $13,000 for the Temple, hitting a new high. Of course, that doesn't mean that we won't set the bar higher for next year! We couldn't have done it without the hard work of the Journal Committee: Paul Teller—printer extraordinaire—Bonnie Siegel, Sheila Rosenberg, Sharyn Levine, Jeanie Corn (cover designer extraordinaire) and Mark Natelson. Most of all, we couldn't have had a beautiful Journal and a fabulous dinner without the efforts of everyone who solicited or placed ads. When you look through the Journal, please note our advertisers/supporters; if you already do business with these advertisers, please thank them. If you don't, think about trying them out—and mention that you saw their ad in our Journal.

Beyond the important objective of raising money, we took the opportunity to celebrate another year of Community Reform Temple. For 52 years, we have provided a Reform Jewish presence in Nassau County, offering religious, educational, and social opportunities for our members and for the community. We hope you will be able to join us next year!

Preschool News

Our spring planting has begun in earnest. Our 3/4 yr. class has planted seeds and experimented with light and water to determine how these factors influence plant growth. Science for preschoolers involves predicting, observing and comparing; relating new experiences to what is already in their cognitive arsenal. That's why our twos were also involved in planting, watering and anxiously watching to see seeds develop into flowers.

Our 3/4 yr.class is looking forward to their trip on April 23rd to the Tilles Center to see a very special performance of " Harold and the Purple Crayon".

The 2 year olds are having lots of fun with "Blue Day" and "Teddy Bear Day". They are also making watering cans, streamers, and umbrellas.

We will be having our "Special- Man-In-Your- Life night on April 29th. Hopefully we'll see lots of fathers, grandfathers, and uncles etc. This is a very special night that our children and dads love to come to.

Marilyn H. Tahl Religious School News

I can't believe that the end of the school year is upon us. The last Sunday is May 23; the last Wednesday is May 26.

Many, many thanks to all the teachers, assistants and students for making this a wonderful year.

But before the year ends, we have several activities planned.

On May 2, the 5th, 6th and 7th grade classes will visit the newly expanded and reopened Holocaust Memorial Center in Glen Cove. A docent will give the students and parents a guided tour of the museum, and they will hear a survivor tell his/her story.

On May 7, the last Class Shabbat Service for the year will take place. Morah Miriam's Alef Class will attend a class dinner prior to the Family Service in which they will participate, and the school choir will also sing. Come to this service to see what our children are accomplishing in school and to show them your support.

In the dead of last winter, we missed a day of Hebrew School due to a large snow storm. This session will be made up on May 19, which is Shavuot. We will have a special program on that day which will center around the Torah. Shavuot remembers the giving of the Torah. Various activities are scheduled, including the making of edible Torahs. The Book of Ruth will also be read that day, as it is during Shavuot services.

Save Friday, June 4 for attending the Shabbat service. That will be Teacher Recognition Shabbat when we show our appreciation for all that our teachers do. High School graduation will also be a part of the service. Melissa Schwartz will mark the completion of her years of Jewish education in our school.

Ritual Committee

May will be an active month for interesting services. We hope everybody will take advantage of what will be offered.

The month will start with Family Shabbat on May 7, which will feature Morah Miriam's alef class. The children are very excited about having the opportunity to show the congregation what they have been learning in Hebrew School.

The following Shabbat, May 14, will be the always engaging Sisterhood Shabbat.

The festival of Shavuot falls on Wednesday, May 19. On Erev Shavuot we will have a service with yiskor at 7:30 PM.

And, finally, on May 28, Emma Foster and Brittany Teller will be confirmed. Both Emma and Brittany have spent many years in our school to reach this point, and their Confirmation should be an occasion to make us all kvell.

We put in a lot of time and effort to bring the congregation meaningful ritual and other events...take advantage of them.

Fundraising News.....

I can tell from your letters that spring is in the air, because some of them inadvertently had pollen on them. Fortunately, I was able to stop sneezing long enough to answer these two.

Dear Barry:

I know that the fundraising activities are almost done for the year, but I was thinking could you do some type of event during the summer, like beach blanket bingo?

Sincerely,
Looking For Summer Fun from Levittown

Dear Looking For Summer Fun,

You are correct, after the auction on May 15th and the Ducks game on May 29th; we don't have anything else scheduled. We are looking at the possibility of doing something during the summer, but it probably won't be beach blanket Bingo, because we won't have enough time to obtain a beach blanket bingo gaming license.

Dear Barry,

My husband's birthday is coming up next month. He's a real golf nut. It seems that everything he does is related to golf in one way or another; he even drives a "Golf" made by Volkswagen. He wants to get rid of my cat and replace him with a little birdie. I hate to complain, but he doesn't help much around the house either. I have to take my daughter to Sunday school every week, because he's too busy playing to drive her. Do you have any ideas for a golf gift that will also motivate him to help more around the house?

Sincerely,
Golf Widow from Westbury

Dear Golf Widow,

I can understand your dilemma. You can buy gift cards for Modell's and Dick's Sport Goods, where your husband can find any golf accessory. However, at the risk of getting him teed-off at me let me make the following suggestions: If you would like him to stop puttering around the house, consider buying gift cards for Fairway; maybe he'll help you with the grocery shopping. You can get him cards for Bed, Bath and Beyond where he can an iron to help press his shirts rather than help his short game. Lastly, you can buy him gift cards to one or more of our many restaurants where he can buy all of the salad greens he wants.

The next Fundraising Meeting will be held at 7:30 pm on Thursday, May 6th at Dan Kotcher's House.

If you have any questions, please submit them to the temple office or e-mail them directly to me (barrypelofsky@verizon.net).
